DELAYED VERDICT IN COURT CASE

DEFENDERS GET SENSATIONAL DELINQUENCY CASE AT TEN O'CLOCK THURSDAY.

ARGUMENTS CUT SHORT
 Only One To Be Heard.
 Made A Splendid Closing Talk To Jurors.

The fate of eleven defendants indicted by a Putnam County grand jury on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a boy under the age of 17 years, has been on in the Putnam Circuit court since Tuesday, was in the hands of the jury.

The evidence in the case was completed Wednesday afternoon and the closing argument of attorneys for the state was made Thursday morning.

Marshall Abrams made the only argument, as prosecuting attorney. The defense refused to plead their case in the case and as they declined to argue, no additional arguments of the state were permissible and S. Hays, assisting the prosecution to remain silent, since the attorney Theodore Crawley, John James Fred Thomas for the defense refused to argue their case. This dramatic close of the case was a surprise to many as the court room was crowded with persons awaiting the arguments which were expected.

The jury was to decide the fate of the defendants. One, Louis was released from custody Wednesday, when it developed that the prosecuting witness, Franklin Risk, had identified him in the crimes charged to have been committed. Three defendants remain to be tried. Cecil Barnett and Hugh Hett who asked for a separate trial and George Blake, who has not been arrested and who is said to have fled to California when he learned the indictments were to be returned against him.

The jury was asked to determine guilt or innocence of the eleven defendants contributing to the delinquency of Risk, and the more serious charges of sodomy against all, will be at a later date.

Thursday was the first day of spring and the opening of the new season did not come any too soon for many of Greencastle and vicinity.

Delco Co. Has Demonstration

MEETING HELD ON THURSDAY AT GREENCASTLE METHODIST CHURCH.

A most interesting demonstration was held Thursday at the Methodist church by R. O. Scobee, local agent of the Delco Light Company of Dayton, Ohio, a subsidiary of the General Motors Corporation.

Between fifty and one hundred persons and their families were present and a lunch was served at the noon hour. During the morning several reels of motion pictures were shown of Delco equipment and its many advantages on a farm. These films dealt with application of electricity to the farm and home sanitation by running water under pressure.

In the afternoon additional films were shown. One was a General Motors picture entitled, "A Trip Around the World," and "Back Home." The plot of this picture was the problems, happiness and tribulations of a farm family.

There were also a number of talks regarding to Delco machinery and the meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

KIWANIANS HEAR McMAHON

Capt. McMahon, of the military department of DePauw University, addressed the members of the Kiwanis Club on aerial photography at the regular weekly luncheon of the organization Thursday noon at the Christian Church.

During his talk, Capt. McMahon passed around pictures of Greencastle taken at an altitude of 10,000 feet by U. S. Army fliers from Chantilly Field, at Rantoul, Ill. The photos were taken on February 12 and represented an area of 15 square miles. The speaker stated that only 42 percent of the United States was correctly mapped and that the remaining 58 percent would be mapped by aerial photography to insure authenticity.

Another feature of Thursday's meeting was the fact that every Kiwanian who was in the city attended. Only one member was absent and it was reported that he would attend the luncheon of the Terre Haute club.

Next week's program will consist of sacred songs by the high school choir and a short talk by the Kiwanis lieutenant-governor Harry McShee.

WATER WORKS OWNERS SEEK CONFERENCE

CITY OFFICIALS WILL PROBABLY GET TOGETHER WITH WATER OWNERS.

APPEAL MAY BE TAKEN

Reported Here That Water Company Men Are Not Satisfied With Valuation Allowed.

A conference between officials of the Greencastle Water Company and Greencastle city officials has been asked and will probably be held some time next week, it is believed. The Water Company officials asked for the conference, saying it was possible that they could agree on some matters pertaining to the Greencastle rate case.

The Water officials are said to be undecided as to whether they will accept the valuation placed by the Federal Court this week, the figures being $350,000. They are asking for a valuation almost double that amount.

In commenting on the case, the News said:

While three federal judges sitting as a court of equity have decided that the Greencastle Water Works Company is entitled to a fair value of $350,000, or $50,000 more than a rate base fixed by the state public service commission, they refused to accept as valid the company's claim for a much higher sum. The incident deserves note as a gratifying regulatory development in Indiana. On several occasions, dissatisfied with commission findings, have succeeded in getting, through judicial intervention, approximately what their own witnesses have contended for. The people's view has always been that such enterprises inflated their demands enormously. Hence it is somewhat encouraging to observe the finding in the Greencastle case. Judges Baltzell, Slick and Alschuler point out:

Neither the commission nor this court is bound by the value of this property as fixed by an engineer. The weight to be given such testimony is to be determined in the light on the facts of the case in hand. It is in the nature of expert testimony and the weight to which it is entitled is governed by the rules pertaining to such testimony.

The management of the Greencastle company had insisted that the value of its holdings was $594,200. It made much of an appraisal prepared by an agency it employed for the purpose. The margin between that amount, and the sum fixed by the judges, is too large to lend itself to any easy explanation. By pointing to unsupported items and vague costs the court apparently was convinced that the so-called impartial survey was nothing of the sort; that it represented the theorizing of paid advocates of bloated statistics. In any event a wide impression prevails that there has been a discouraging degree of that kind of accounting and engineering in this state. Although the commission order was set aside and the rate base will have to be increased, the court and commission views are closer together than frequently has been true.

Where justice rests in the dispute we do not presume to say, but there has been, we think, a gain in setting forth an opinion that the labeling of a collection of figures with an engineering stamp is not, necessarily, a sign that the table is sacrosanct. Scrutiny of the compilations is always called for, particularly in this period of utility capitalization endeavor and refinancing operations.

FRANCE BOWS BEFORE BIER OF WAR HERO

NATIONAL FUNERAL ARRANGED FOR MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH, MILITARY GENIUS.

ALL NATIONS PAY HOMAGE

Body of French World War Leader To Rest Beside Napoleon In National Shrine.

PARIS, March 21 (UP)—The body of Field Marshal Ferdinand Foch, victor over everything but death, lay in state today not far from the eternal flame at the tomb of the unknown Poilu.

Clad in the dark blue uniform of his country and decorated with the bright ribbons of her highest honors, the "little warrior" slept quietly at last behind the shuttered windows of his home on Rue De Grenelles.

France knelt—on the first day of spring—before the bier of the mild-mannered military genius, who, claimed, in death, the redoubled esteem and adoration of the nation which had honored him as victor and savior. Statesmen, peasants and veterans of the World's great war were joined by Ambassadors of many nations in humble tribute to France's hero.

Heir to the military glory of Napoleon and of Ney, the supreme commander of the allied war-time armies probably will lie for a day with the most humble of his men beneath the broad curve of the Arc de Triomphe.

Then, after the greatest national funeral honors which France can bestow, the body will rest in the Invalides, according to present plans.

The funeral will be the greatest ever given a French hero, official sources announced, although plans have not yet been completed. The national services probably will be delayed until Sunday or Monday to permit time for arrival of foreign delegations.

There will be a day of national mourning in honor of the man who turned back invading armies from Paris more than a decade ago.

There was satisfaction today in the hearts of the men who had come back from the mud of trenches in Flanders that "Le Marechal" had uttered, even with his last breath, the cry of the Poilu: "Allons Y!" (Let's Go.)

It was with this phrase that Foch replied to his attendant when told it was time for him to return to bed, a moment before death.

Marshal Foch's will was read this morning. He left most of his estate to Madame Foch, who also is given complete freedom as to the burial. Madame Foch immediately communicated with Premier Poincare. He called the cabinet officers together to decide whether burial be in the Invalides alongside Napoleon or in Pantheon, among the bodies of French political heroes, would be suggested to Madame Foch.

It has been decided to permit the public to view the body Friday, either under the Arc de Triomphe or at the Invalides.

The government placed before the chamber of deputies a bill for the expenses of a national funeral. Minister of Interior Andre Tarbieu pointed out that the services would be the sixth accorded in the last 50 years.

Victor Hugo, Gambetta, Pasteur, Carnot and the late President Felix Faure alone have been so honored, the minister said.

Gen. John J. Pershing who had planned to go to the Riviera to complete his recovery from an attack of influenza, will remain in Paris to attend the funeral.

NO TRACE OF ESCAPED PRISONERS REPORTED BY THE AUTHORITIES.

The trio knocked the driver out of the machine, inside the prison grounds, and departed hurriedly. The truck was found abandoned south of Cloverdale Wednesday morning but the men are still at large.

50 REPORTED KILLED AFTER MINE BLAST

LIVES OF 300 MINERS WERE ENDANGERED BY EXPLOSION TODAY

200 MEN EFFECT ESCAPE

Houses For Miles Around Rocked By Blast In Pennsylvania Coal Mine. Flames Kill Victims.

PARNASSUS, Pa., Mar. 21 (UP)—The lives of 300 miners were endangered today by an explosion in the Valley Camp Coal Company's Kinlock mine, company officials announced.

The men were caught in the workings by the blast which shook the countryside for miles around at 7:30 A. M. shortly after night and day shifts changed places.

An unverified report to the United States Bureau of mines at Pittsburgh estimated that 50 men had been killed.

Rescue crews were rushed to the mine from adjoining properties and a mine rescue car of the bureau of mines was brought from a siding a few miles away. The rescuers included members of the Kinlock Mine's night shift who were homeward bound when the blast occurred.

Houses for two miles about the mine were rocked by the explosion. Witnesses said a shaft of flames shot 200 feet in the air from the mine shaft. It was feared that many of the miners may have burned to death.

Two entries from the mine located at points five miles away from the main entrance may afford an opportunity for some of the men to escape, rescue crews believed. Men were sent to these openings to aid any of the men who may find their way to safety.

Fighting their way through the gas filled chambers of the mine, approximately 100 of the entombed men reached safety through the entrance the Valley Camp Mine No. 1.

The entrance to this mine which connects with the Kinlock workings, is about three miles from the shaft where the full force of the explosion struck.

A short time later Edward Jones, assistant pit boss, led more than 100 additional miners from the mouth of the Valley Camp Mine No. 1.

None of the 200 miners who escaped was injured from the gas or from burns. All were able to walk without assistance.

Sheriff Ed Eiteljorge stated Thursday morning that Alva Bryan, deputy sheriff, and detective Snyder, of the Pinkerton agency, were in Kentucky on Wednesday seeking clues as to the whereabouts of Bert Wilson and Guy Newkirk, alias James Moore, who escaped from the Putnam county jail Monday night.

The authorities here were of the opinion that the two men, charged with auto banditry and poultry thefts, made for Kentucky immediately after their jail break. It had been learned that the two alleged criminals had previously resided in Kentucky before coming to Indiana and locating on a farm near Martinsville in Morgan county.

Bryan and Snyder found no trace of the fugitives, it was said.

MONON WILL FIGHT B. & O. RAIL MERGER

DIRECTORS OF C. I. & L. RAILROAD AGAINST PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION

DIRECTORS IN SESSION

Monon Officials Show Various Reasons Why B. & O. Should Not Absorb Important Indiana Line

War was declared today by directors of the Monon railroad meeting here on attempts of the Baltimore and Ohio to absorb the Monon and thus take away one of the three important north and south railroads.

The call to arms was sounded in a resolution adopted by the directors today in which stockholders declared that assumption of control by the B and O would not be in public interest; called upon all stockholders and directors of the railroad to combat such an absorption and gave directors and the executive committee full authority to fight such a step.

The directors read the '28 annual report showing the railway paid to Indiana $1,065,676 in taxes in 1928, an increase of $63,646 over the preceding year.

Shortly thereafter H. R. Kerrie, Chicago, president of the Monon, and E. P. Cockrell, general passenger agent, called on public commissioners to request them to file an intervening petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission in the proposed merger.

Commissioner John W. McCauley, with whom Kerrie conferred, stated he was ready to make every effort to prevent the merger on the grounds that it would be detrimental to Indiana.

It would mean a loss of taxes at a time when taxpayers of the state could ill afford it and perhaps the loss of the Lafayette shops with consequent decreased employment, McCauley said.

Petition for the merger has been filed with the I. C. C. by the B and O, but date of hearing has not yet been set.

It was pointed out that with the merger effective the Monon would lose much of its long haul traffic, the B. and O. taking east and west bound freight away at intersecting points.

This, McCauley pointed out, would mean reduced revenues with resulting reduction in gross and net income on which tax valuation is largely based.

Present valuation of the Monon is $35,212,090. The average tax per county in 1927 was $2.61. This valuation included the Michigan City, Main, Bloomfield-Bedford, Chicago and Wash Valley, French Lick, Indianapolis and Louisville, and Indiana Stone lines.

Much of the supplies of the road now is purchased in the state. It was predicted that such stores would be purchased in the east if the merger was approved.

Over one hundred house wives had purchased the meat today, before local police were informed and made an investigation. It was learned that the hams were not sugar cured, as represented. They were wrapped in regular factory paper and proved to be shoulder meat instead of hams. The officers learned that the three were selling the meats without city license and they are searching for them this afternoon.—Bedford Mail.

Popularity... begins with a Clear Skin

IT'S the person with a clear, smooth, lovely complexion that usually wins.

To be sure, not much is said openly about skin eruptions, but secretly they influence many important affairs. Personal likes and dislikes are quickly formed.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. A clear skin makes everyone more attractive.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands

have been enabled to free themselves of those unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood makes the body strong and resistant to disease.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders or if the count of your red-blood-cells is low, take a few bottles of S.S.S. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the remedy, which is made from fresh vegetable drugs, and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

The holy spirit of the early spring time was felt and gave added zest to the loyal and faithful members, who are a small part of the great national organization, with a Christ-like mission that is doing so much for the foreigner in our midst as well as the native-born, but there is even a more challenging need and that is the Christianization of our American citizenship and the Woman's Home Missionary Society, ever alert, is doing its part to meet the challenge.

FEDERAL TROOPS ENTRENCHED

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 21. (UP)—Mexican federal troops were intrenching themselves today for the defense of Mazatlan, Sinaloa, west coast seaport town, in anticipation of rebel attack.

General Jaime Carrillo, in command of the federal forces at Mazatlan, reported that rebel troops had been sighted in the vicinity, apparently preparing to attack.

Government officials were awaiting expected reports of the execution of General Jesus M. Aguirre, one of the inspirers and leaders of the current rebellion, who was captured by federal troops yesterday and court martialed last evening. His execution was scheduled for today.

Great satisfaction was expressed by the government when the report of the capture was made to President Portes Gil by General Manuel M. A. Costa. Aguirre was taken at Agua Catillo, Vera Cruz.

Jesus Aguirre is the brother of Simon Aguirre, who was executed in the first week of the revolt for his part in the rebellion in the state of Vera Cruz.

In accordance with instructions from the president, photographs of the rebel general were to be made before and after the execution.

The capture followed a battle in which two rebel generals, Miguel Aleman and Bridgo Escobar, were killed. Escobar was not related to the leader of the northern rebel troops, J. Gonzales Escobar.

From Mazatlan General Carrillo informed government officials he had received a telephone call from rebel General Iturbe yesterday, in the town of Portrero, asking that he and the

SCOUTS HAD MEETING

Assistant scoutmaster Patterson inspected the scouts and state that the inspection last evening was much better than any previous one. Professor Myers, scoutmaster of the troop said that he was glad to see that so many of the scouts were wearing their uniforms to the meeting.

In the paper campaign that the scouts recently carried on, they earned $26.25. They collected a total of 2 1-4 tons of paper. The money earned is to be spent for various things that will benefit the troop such as prizes for different activities.

A plan is afoot to secure a new camping site for the scout camp. The present one is not ideally located enough to meet the needs of the scouts. Also they do not own the land. "It is time now to be looking towards the future for the Greencastle scouts," Professor Myers stated last evening. The present location has not an adequate water supply, and the building is in need of repair. The foundation of the building needs fixing, and a new fire place would have to be built. Likewise there is not a place for the scouts to swim.

The place that is now under consideration is an 80 acre tract that runs from the national road to Deer Creek. This tract has three excellent springs which would supply ample water for drinking. This proposed area has a frontage of 1,000 feet on Deer Creek, which would give the scouts ample room for their swimming hole. The price of this tract is $1,500.

According to the present plan of Professor Myers, the Girl Scouts would buy half of the land and erect a cabin on it, while the scouts would take their half of it and erect a log cabin.

Professor Myers is going out to the proposed site Saturday and is taking a number of the scouts with him. He wants them to look it over and pass judgment upon it. He intends to pick a cabin site and to chart the flow of the water.

Goes To Source Of Stomach And Kidney Trouble

Lady Says This New Konjola Completely Restored Her Health.

MRS. STELLA WIELGOSS

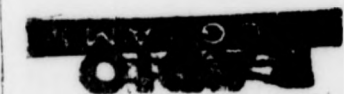

"Since I completed the treatment of Konjola, I am entirely free of the dreadful miseries of kidney and stomach trouble," said Mrs. Stella Wielgoss, 2526 West Frederickson street, South Bend, Indiana.

"My stomach and kidneys had been causing me intense misery for over two years. My trouble was mostly due to weak kidneys. Every action brought on a burning sensation to my bladder. My back was weak and aching all the time. After every meal I suffered from indigestion pains. Gas formed and pressed against my heart. I was subject to dizzy spells.

"After taking Konjola I seemed to have new health throughout my body and system. Four bottles made my stomach organs function perfectly and my digestion is in wonderful shape. I never have gas and bloating spells are a thing of the past. I sleep through the entire night without waking once. Konjola permanently relieved every trace of stomach and kidney trouble, that is why I am only too glad to endorse it to others."

Konjola is sold in GreenCastle at the Owl drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. —(Adv.)

OKLAHOMA'S HEAD CUSTED FROM OFFICE

GOV. HENRY S. JOHNSON IMPEACHED FOR GENERAL INCOMPETENCY

HOLLOWAY IS SWORN IN

Lieutenant Governor Takes Oath Of Office. Johnson Exonerated On Nine Charges.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 21.—The second successive elected Governor of Oklahoma was removed from office Wednesday. The state Senate court of impeachment found Henry S. Johnson guilty of a charge of general incompetency, preferred Wednesday by the House of Representatives.

He was exonerated on nine other charges brought by the House. J. C. Walton, Johnson's predecessor, was removed, in November, 1923.

W. J. Holloway, Lieutenant Governor, was sworn in as Johnson's successor by Chief Justice C. W. Mason of the state Supreme court immediately after the Senate court had completed its vote on the impeachment charges. Holloway had been acting Governor since Johnson was suspended from office two months ago.

Johnson, who as late as last night expressed confidence he would be restored to office, received the verdict impassively. Mrs. Johnson, who had been at his side almost constantly during the lengthy trial, made no demonstration.

The Senate vote came as a dramatic climax to more than two years of political turbulence, which reached the impeachment pitch late in 1927. At that time, however, Johnson succeeded in dispersing hostile legislators by court action after they had sought to convene on their own call.

Much of the fire against the Johnson administration centered on Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, whom he had established as his confidential secretary immediately after his inauguration on January, 1927. Declaring that the attack on Mrs. Hammonds and his administration was inspired by "disappointed political spoilsmen," Johnson steadfastly refused to dismiss her.

After he was suspended from office and shortly before his impeachment trial opened, Johnson accepted Mrs. Hammonds's resignation. On the witness stand he explained that he had declined previously to dispense with Mrs. Hammonds's services because rumors had been circulated by his political enemies that his personal relations with the woman secretary were improper. This charge, made in a purported impeachment article voted by the attempted session in 1927, was not renewed by the present session, and for this reason, Johnson said, he felt justified in accepting Mrs. Hammonds's resignation.

Exact images of these characters are now on display in front of the Granada theater lobby, which is attracting much attention, which is something unusual for GreenCastle people to see.

AT THE VONCASTLE

Paramount, in producing "The Canary Murder Case," which is showing today and tomorrow at the Voncastle, brings to the screen one of the most widely read mystery stories ever published. The story in book form has been one of the biggest sellers in years. It was written by S. S. Van Dine who is considered one of the greatest authors of "thrillers."

Van Dine is known as the mystery man of fiction because of his effort to conceal his real identity as the author of mystery stories. S. S. Van Dine is a name he has assumed.

Paramount, in order to produce a picture that would do justice to the story, went to great pains in putting everything into the filming of it that would accomplish the desired result. In choosing the cast of players for the respective characters in the picture, Paramount assigned actors of especial talent to the outstanding roles.

William Powell, who portrays the part of Philo Vance, amateur detective, is one of the few actors in Hollywood whose services are in demand continuously. He has had practically no vacation between pictures for the past couple of years.
